Kindergarten Parents~

We welcome Mrs. Helwig, mom of Nate, as our Helping Hands this Wednesday!

Please continue to make sure that your child brings a warm coat, gloves/mittens, and hat to school for recess. We will be going outside as long as the weather permits.

We had a fun time during Spirit Week! We had a pretty sharp looking class on Wednesday! Look for pictures from our classroom on the school website this week.

This Wednesday, March 4th, will be Dr. Seuss Day in our classroom. We will be reading Dr. Seuss books, watching a short "Green Eggs and Ham" movie, and eating green eggs and ham in the afternoon. ☺

This Friday, March 6th, is family BINGO Night at Gethsemane. The evening starts at 6:30pm. Just bring a liter of pop or snack and join the fun evening!

Lenten Services have begun and take place every Wednesday at 7:00pm.

Your family should have received a Science and Arts Fair packet last week. The annual Science and Arts Fair will held at Nebraska Lutheran High School on Saturday, March 21st. Your child may participate in the art category of the fair. We will be submitting one entry per child at school, but you are also able to submit your own craft/art project and bring it to school before the fair. Please let me know if you have any questions about this.

This week our Christ Light stories will be The story of the Three Servants and The Workers in the Vineyard.

We will be finishing Letterbook P this week in Reading. We will be learning about double consonants and how to sound them out when reading them in a word. Your help at home is so greatly appreciated!
